

We do not want one person or business to control more of the media, we want more choices to read, listen to, and watch.